

Dear Parents,

As Sir Ellis Kadoorie Secondary School (West Kowloon) commemorates its 25th Anniversary, we are reminded of the noble vision that has guided our journey: to provide equal learning opportunities for every student, and to cultivate them into upright, responsible citizens with integrity, discernment, and a global outlook. Our richly diverse student body, drawn from many nations and cultures, inspires us to foster a campus that is inclusive, harmonious, and respectful of all.

We remain steadfast in our mission to promote holistic development. Through both classroom instruction and a wide array of co-curricular activities, we seek to nurture not only academic excellence but also compassion, moral clarity, and social responsibility. Our dedicated teachers work closely with students to set purposeful goals, guiding them in career planning and encouraging the pursuit of lifelong learning.

In keeping with Hong Kong's evolving educational landscape, we have invested significantly in digital education. We encourage our students to harness the potential of artificial intelligence, strengthen their information technology literacy, and apply these skills with discernment and creativity. This forward-looking approach ensures that our graduates are well-prepared to meet the challenges of an increasingly interconnected world.

The past year has been marked by memorable milestones. Parents joined us wholeheartedly in celebrating our 25th Anniversary through the Graduation Ceremony, Open Day, and Athletics Meet, exemplifying the strong partnership between home and school. During the External School Review conducted by the Education Bureau in March, parents graciously shared their experiences of close collaboration, earning commendation in the final report. Such recognition affirms the remarkable support of our parent community, which continues to move me deeply.

Equally inspiring is the devotion of parents who accompany their children to activities ranging from cooking workshops to overseas exchanges, inter-school debates, and award ceremonies in artificial intelligence. Their commitment underscores the vital role of family involvement in nurturing students' holistic growth.

Looking ahead, we rejoice in the success of our student, Iglorua Chole Faye, who has been admitted to The University of Hong Kong under the School Nominations Direct Admission Scheme to study Humanities and Digital Technologies. Her achievement is a source of pride for our entire school community, and a shining example of what can be accomplished when school and family work hand in hand.

As we embark upon the next chapter of our journey, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to all parents and community members for your steadfast support. Together, let us continue to cultivate a nurturing environment where every child may thrive, embrace lifelong learning, and contribute meaningfully to society.

LEE TUNG CHING

Principal

